

I oppose any federal preemption of Indiana's telephone privacy law. Since the adoption of that law, and my registration for privacy under it, I have found that far fewer telephone solicitors have interrupted my time at home. Adoption of a weaker federal standard would significantly degrade the quality of my life in my own home. Please do not take this needless step.